

BOLD THIEVES ROB A JAPANESE BANK IN SOUTH

SECURED $15,000 IN GOLD COIN

Chiseled a Hole in the Large Safe and Secured the Strong Box.

LOS ANGELES, November 23.—The local branch of the Japanese Banking House, Nichi Bei Ginko, at 111 East Fifth street, was robbed last night of almost $15,000 in cash. The robbery was not discovered until the bank was about to be opened for business today. A hole almost a foot square had been chiseled out of the back of the large safe, the strong box removed and the contents taken.

BOLD CRIME.

The crime, which was one of the boldest and cleverest with which the local police has had to do for some time, evidently was the work of experts in safe cracking, who worked noiselessly for several hours to reach the treasure.

The bank is located just east of Main street, on Fifth, near one of the busiest corners in that part of the city. When the bank closed last night $15,000 was placed in the strong box and locked in the safe. All of this was missing today except $312.50, which was covered with a mass of papers.

CUT HOLE IN THE WALL.

The robbers gained access to the bank by opening the door of a bicycle shop in the adjoining building, cutting a hole through the brick wall into the bank and thus reaching the rear of the safe. They had intended, it appears, to break into the safe by the use of dynamite, as tools and dynamite caps were found by the police behind the safe. Evidently they feared the noise of an explosion so near to a busy corner, and resorted to the use of chisels. With these tools a hole was cut through the back of the safe, a task that must have required several hours steady work. Through this hole the strong box was reached and the cash taken out.

Besides the tools and dynamite caps left by the robbers, an old sack used to muffle the chisels, was found, also a small blood-stained linen handkerchief.

POLICE NOTIFIED.

When the bicycle shop next door to the bank was opened this morning the proprietor discovered the hole through the wall of his place leading into the bank. The police were notified immediately, as well as the manager of the bank, M. Takharra.

Chief of Police Aulsebrook personally took charge of the investigation, assisted by half a dozen detectives. "It is one of the smoothest, cleanest jobs of safe cracking I have ever seen," said Aulsebrook. "It has all the marks of experts in that line, who are probably recent arrivals in California. We have put every available detective on the case and will make a strenuous effort to catch them before they can get out of the city."

PREPARED FOR RUN.

It was feared that there might be a run on the bank when news of the robbery spread and the officers immediately prepared for it by going to the Central Bank, with whom it has credit, and securing $14,000 to meet all demands. The bank opened promptly on time for business and there has been no indication of a run. M. Takharra, the manager of the bank, departed this afternoon for San Francisco to explain the robbery to the head office.

Only cash was taken by the robbers, several thousand dollars of negotiable paper being found scattered about the floor.

CALLED ITALIAN QUEEN THEIR MADONNA

ROME, Nov. 23.—King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena arrived unexpectedly today at the village of Brattico, Calabria, in the center of the desolation caused by the earthquakes of September 8. Their majesties were received with enthusiasm by the villagers, and many touching incidents occurred, the women sending kisses to the queen, and exclaiming: "Thou art our Madonna."

From Brattico the sovereigns drove to Monteleone, where they were also unexpectedly by the authorities. The Queen insisted on visiting the poorest quarters, consoling and helping everybody. She inspected the hospitals, caressed the children and encouraged everybody, saying: "I am your friend, and have children myself. I know what you suffer."

Meanwhile the people who were wildly enthusiastic, organized an imposing demonstration in honor of their majesties.

MISS CORALIE SELBY IS TO WED THOS. OLNEY

One of the most interesting engagements of the year is that of Miss Coralie Selby, daughter of the late Prentiss Selby, and Thomas Olney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Olney, of Prospect Heights. The news of this engagement comes as a great surprise to the many friends of the young couple.
Miss Coralie Selby is a very attractive girl, and her family comes from one of the oldest and proudest of the earlier residents of California. The family connection is a large one, and the news of the engagement will be of the greatest interest in local and State society, especially among the older residents about the bay.
Thomas Olney is very prominent socially, being a graduate of the University of California. At present he is managing the Olney ranch at Danville.
No date has yet been set for the wedding, but it is expected to take place in the near future.

M'NULTY'S TRIAL DAY IS FIXED

Great Crowd Present in Courtroom to See Him Arraigned.

BERKELEY, Nov. 23.—Facing Judge Robert S. Edgar and the crowd of curious sightseers, many of them intimate friends, Lester McNulty this morning heard himself formerly charged with a felonious assault on Dorothy Olsen, the young woman whose accusations against McNulty have created a profound sensation in social, fraternal and political circles during the last week.

McNulty has a host of loyal friends, who express implicit belief in his ability to prove his innocence.

ORDEAL IN COURT.

The ordeal through which McNulty has passed showed in his face this morning, lines of care indicating the strain which he has been under while waiting for the outcome of Dorothy Olsen's serious charge against him. Contrary to general expectation McNulty did not put in a plea this morning. His counsel explained that it was not customary for the accused person to enter a formal plea at the time of the arraignment. This plea is reserved for later.

TO DEFEND HIM.

McNulty will plead not guilty. He has retained counsel to defend him, and was represented in court this morning by E. E. Trefethen, from M. C. Chapman's law office in Oakland. It is understood that former Judge A. L. Frick will be associated with Mr. Chapman in defending McNulty.

SET FOR HEARING.

Judge Edgar this morning set the date for the preliminary examination for December 1, at 10 o'clock in the morning. At that time McNulty's counsel will be in evidence, the serious part of the fight for the freedom of McNulty beginning at that time.

CROWD PRESENT.

When Justice Edgar opened court this morning, the room was crowded by people from Oakland and Berkeley. McNulty's bondsmen, George Schmidt and Daniel Fraser, were present at the defendant's side, as well as the brother of McNulty, Dr. Charles McNulty.

TIME IS SET.

Justice Edgar read the information which the District Attorney had filed, charging McNulty with a felonious assault upon Miss Dorothy Olsen on the night of November 5, and informed McNulty of his rights in the case. Mr. McNulty is a court clerk himself and understands these details perfectly, so that the proceedings did not particularly appeal to him. It was stated by the court that his preliminary examination would be held at 10 o'clock on December 1, and with that announcement, the matter was closed today.

WAR MAY BE RESULT

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 23.—The Sultan today issued an irade, approving the decision of the council of ministers to reject the demands of the powers for international control of the finances of Macedonia. Whether rejection is absolute or conditional has not been definitely ascertained.
Vice-Admiral Husni Pasha has started on a special steamer for the Dardanelles, presumably with instructions for the forts regarding the commander's conduct in the event of the appearance of international fleets. Similar instructions have been sent to the Governors of the Turkish Islands in the archipelago.
PARIS, Nov. 23.—Turkey's note in reply to the ultimatum of the powers contains a warning that the action of the powers in resorting to a naval demonstration may precipitate an international uprising of Mussulmans against the Christian population of Turkey. This

JAMES HALPIN, alias John Krup, who forfeited $5000 cash bail so he would not have to testify against Tammany in the election fraud cases. The report of the detectives is: "Watch the Morgue for Krup. He will be killed to prevent his capture."

Witnesses in the Election Cases Must Beware of the Assassin.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—John Elder was held in $10,000 bail today charged with illegal voting and perjury, and James Gallagher was held in $5000 bail on a charge of perjury.

W. R. Hearst's lawyers claimed that ninety-one votes were found in one election district in the Twentieth Assembly District which should have been counted for Hearst and were not.

DANCE HALL MURDER.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Election frauds are believed by the police to have caused the murder last night of W. F. Harrington in the Little Naples Dance Hall, and also the probably fatal injuries of Abraham Juckerman, who was found with a fractured skull some distance away from the Little Naples.

The dance hall is at No. 57 Great Jones street, and is conducted by Paul Kelly, leader of an East-Side gang. From papers found on the dead man, and from information obtained from nine prisoners, two of them women, who were arrested after the murder, the police learned that the quarrel started over election matters. One of the prisoners had a marked ballot for the last election in his pocket.

KILLED IN BAR ROOM.

Harrington was killed in the bar room of the Little Naples during a revolver battle, which left the floors spotted with blood, and riddled the pictures on the walls. Bartender Bernard Escotte, one of those under arrest, said that the fight started when four members of the Liberty Association, which is hostile to the Kelly gang, entered the room after midnight. One of these men, Escotte says, immediately ordered drinks for the whole crowd. When everyone was drinking, he insolently pounded with his fist on the bar and exclaimed:

FIFTY SHOTS FIRED.

"My best friend was shot here Tuesday morning. Are there any of you here who know how to shoot? If you do, I would like to have you begin." The challenge was accepted, and in the battle which followed the police say that fifty shots were fired. When the officers arrived Harrington was dead on the floor, and all the others, including the wounded in the dance hall, had fled after turning out the lights. The dead man's dog was found crouching over his master's body and whining.

LIBERTY GANG.

The police say that the friend of the Liberty gang, whose name was made the pretext for the fight, was John Ratta, who was wounded at the Little Naples last Tuesday morning. The police also believe that a quarrel over the division of election money was the original cause of the fight.

BALLOT BOXES.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Argument on the motion to open the ballot boxes in the contest of W. R. Hearst over the Mayoralty election has been adjourned until tomorrow.

is considered to be a threat, as it is known that no demonstration of Mussulmans against Christians can occur unless it has the silent acquiescence of the Turkish authorities.
The answer of the Porte as a whole is entirely unsatisfactory since it does not respond to the demand for the extension of the authority of the financial agents of the powers for two years, and is evasive upon the question of the general control by the powers of the financial affairs of Macedonia.
All the Ministers, except the Minister of War, favored yielding to the ultimatum but Palace influences led the Sultan to overrule the favorable attitude of the Porte. These influences are regarded as the outgrowth of Germany's abstaining from taking an active part in the naval demonstration.

The Turkish reply gives a serious turn to the negotiations.
WASHINGTON, November 23.—Secretary Taft today issued a statement in which he shows that by congressional legislation the President is authorized to make expenditures on the Panama Canal not only from the $10,000,000 annual appropriation, but from the $185,000,000 in bonds provided for canal construction by the Spooner act.

Falls Heavily to the Pavement and His Spine is Wrenched.

While on his way to the City Hall this morning Mayor Frank K. Mott slipped and fell on the wet sidewalk in front of Osgoods' drug store, corner of Twelfth and Washington streets, sustaining a severe injury to his spine, which will keep him in bed for at least three or four days.

The injury, while not of a permanent nature, is very painful. The city's chief executive is under the care of Dr. E. N. Ewer, the health officer, who states that the Mayor did not sustain any broken bones.

At 10:30 o'clock this morning Mayor Mott left his store on Broadway to attend to the routine duties attaching to his office.

He crossed over from Broadway to Washington. His shoes were capped with rubber heels and this is thought to be the reason for his losing his equilibrium. The pavement in front of Osgoods' store was more than ordinarily slippery and treacherous. The Mayor's feet shot from under him without warning. He fell heavily and was unable to raise himself.

He was carried into Osgoods' store, where a hasty examination of his injuries revealed the fact that he had wrenched his spine, but that no bones had been broken.

He was placed in a carriage and taken to his home, 1066 Jackson street.

Dr. Ewer was sent for and made a thorough examination of the injuries sustained by the Mayor. The physician states that it will require at least three days of absolute quiet before the Mayor can again attend to his duties.

JEWS MARCH THROUGH THE GHETTO IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—One of the most peculiar and impressive demonstrations which has ever taken place in the populous East Side was held today, when several thousand Jewish men and women, with bared heads and lips moving in prayer, marched in a long procession through the Ghetto, as a sign of their grief at the massacres of their people, and a protest against the horror of their condition in Russia. Following the parade a benefit performance was given in the Thalia Theater on the Bowery for the benefit of the Jews in Russia, who have suffered in the recent outbreaks. Black banners waved over the procession which was headed by a band playing dirges. Spectators on the sidewalks joined with the marchers in singing mournful chants. The march lasted two hours.

The performance at the theater, a new theater created for this occasion, was entitled "The Rioters of Kishineff." It portrayed the horrors of the recent massacres in Russia.

PLAN TO SETTLE

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 23.—Premier Witte was in communication during the night and this morning with M. Guchkov and his other lieutenants at Moscow in efforts to compromise some of the declarations in the resolution adopted yesterday by the zemstvo congress.

He has no hope that the policy recommended by the congress will be completely satisfactory to the government, as the constitutional democrats have the bit in their teeth and will not listen even to the words of their former idol, M. Petrunkovich. Nevertheless, the declaration in favor of universal suffrage and the transformation of the national assembly into a constituent assembly will grow less distasteful to the count in the course of time.

Many liberals believe the Premier is obliged to make a show of opposition for its effect upon the Emperor and court, but it is privately known that he has been convinced for some time that the elaboration of a constitution containing the charter of Russian liberties to which the Emperor will swear allegiance, is the safest if not the only egress from the present situation. It would, at the same time, buttress the government against a possible attempt at reaction on one hand and fortify it for the fight against the revolutionary forces on the other. But he regards it as vital that the moderate conservative majority should ratify the constitution.

While ready to agree, therefore, to

BOTTOM.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—The old seventy-four-gun frigate Forte, built in 1812, was sunk in the Melway today by shells fired by the British gunboat Bustard.
Fire broke out this morning on the Forte, which had been used as a coal depot, and 2000 tons of coal were soon ablaze.
The fire parties were unable, owing to the heat, to get close enough to deal with the flames, so the shelling was resorted to in order to prevent the fire from spreading.

MARQUIS ITO IS INJURED

SEOUL, Nov. 23 (delayed in transmission).—While Marquis Ito was in a train this evening, returning from a shooting trip with Minister Hayashi and members of their suites, a window of the car in which he was riding was smashed by a stone and he sustained three slight scratches from the broken glass.
The train was stopped immediately and the neighborhood was searched by gendarmes, who arrested four natives. It is believed that the act was committed by members of the so-called "Patriotic Students Society" to punish the new treaty with Japan.

IMPORTANT SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY

A Clinical Preparation That Positively Kills the Dandruff Germ. A most important discovery has been made after a year's patient laboratory work aimed in a certain direction. It is Newbro's Herpicide, a preparation that prevents falling hair, and speedily and permanently eradicates dandruff. These evils are caused by a germ or parasite that burrows into the scalp, throwing up dandruff, as it seeks to sap the life of the hair at the root. There's no baldness without falling or thin hair, no thin hair without dandruff, and no dandruff if the germ is destroyed. Newbro's Herpicide is the only preparation that will do the work. "Destroy the cause, you will remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10 cents in stamps for sample. To The Herpicide Company, Detroit, Michigan.

much of anxiety for our political conditions. It does not preach any ism. It simply shows, in an intensely dramatic way, the faculty of that great which leads to political graft rings. Mr. and Mrs. Nellie Frank Mac Vickers, L. R. Stockwell and Grail Humphreys are all giving unusually strong impersonations. Nothing stronger has been seen on the Liberty stage than the third act of this play. It is one of those situations that makes the audience hold their breath in suspense as to what will be the final outcome. Blanche Douglas has a part that shows her power as an emotional actress. James Gleason is making a hit in his first prominent part. He is the son of Anna Collins Gleason and belongs to the third generation of actors in his mother's family. John D. O'Hara as "Corrigan" makes a great mistake in the third act by his offensive manner during the clear incident. It is really the first vulgar act to be seen on the Liberty stage.

ENGLISH POLITICS

Rumors of an Early Dissolution of Parliament Heard.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—The recent rumors of an early dissolution of Parliament and an appeal to the country are gradually crystallizing into more definite form, and while no official intimation has been forthcoming, the idea is prevalent in well informed political circles that Premier Balfour will take an early opportunity to place his resignation in the hands of the King. Should this materialize, the Liberals will be invited to form a government. Parliament will meet for a few days' session, and a general election will occur early in the new year. The political situation was so radically altered during the last week that even the government supporters no longer argue that Balfour has a sufficiently united party at his back to again meet Parliament with the object of initiating any legislation to the public advantage.

PREMIER'S APPEAL

The Premier's appeal to the Unionists at New Castle a week ago to unite on his fiscal policy, has not met with much success. On the contrary, Joseph Chamberlain, the most powerful private member of the Unionist coalition, directly joined issue with his chief by a speech at Bristol Tuesday, calling on Unionists to rally to the support of his own more drastic fiscal proposals, which include a fifty cent tax on grain. The cleavage of the party was thus more markedly accentuated, and many Unionist politicians held that no good purpose could be served by a longer retention of office, and that the weakness of the party will only be further accentuated by a perpetuation of existing rivalry between the two sections.

CABINET MEETING

A cabinet meeting has been called for tomorrow. This will be only the second held this fall, and the fact that there have been so few conferences between the Ministers is taken as another indication of the imminence of a change of government.

On the stock exchange a definite announcement of the resignation of the cabinet is expected at any time, and the whole market today was flat in consequence.

The Liberals are inclined to resent Mr. Balfour's resignation at the present moment. They contend that the Premier should remain in office a few weeks longer, and himself dissolve Parliament and appeal to the country. The Liberals see no reason why the political opposition should put themselves to the inconvenience of forming a government in the dark, without knowing what forces they will command in the new Parliament, and they object to what they designate as Mr. Balfour's "tactical maneuvers," whereby the Liberal attack would be turned into a defense before election, and Mr. Balfour would be given a free hand to arrange with Mr. Chamberlain for concerted action against the Liberal party.

MURDERING FOR MONEY

Why Americans Have Been Ordered Shot by Mexican Officials.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Details of the crime for which C. T. Richardson, C. S. Harle and William Mason, Americans, have been sentenced to be shot at Chihuahua, Mexico, were furnished last night by Attorney Harry H. Bottom of this city. The infliction of the death penalty marks the end of an extraordinary conspiracy to cheat the New York Life Insurance Company. Mr. Bottom was solicitor-general for that company when the murders involved were committed in 1902. The details of the crime and the great detective story that followed have never been printed before.

FOUGHT EXTRADITION.

The three criminals have fought extradition and appealed through the Mexican courts for three years. Hurlburt was a Rochester lawyer, who ran away to Mexico with seven indictments over his head for running a "divorce mill." Mitchell, alias Mason, was another Rochester lawyer, who followed him later. With the help of Dr. Harle, or Chihuahua, they poisoned with strychnine two other Americans, whom they caused to be insured in the New York Life, and collected $25,000 on the policies. These two Americans were Harry Mitchell, brother of Mrs. Hurlburt, and James Devers, a broken-down mining man. Hurlburt, calling himself C. T. Richardson, was the company's agent at Chihuahua. After the murders the gang, except Harle, moved to Texas.

SUSPICION AROUSED.

Suspicion was aroused, and a detective named Gray was sent to Texas. He posed as a lumber merchant and was supplied with lumber orders from New York, to keep up the game. One day Hurlburt spoke to Gray's little girl. The men met, got intimate, and Hurlburt broached a scheme to cheat the insurance company out of $50,000. He said that he had had experience. Detective Gray proposed that they insure Gray's brother-in-law for $50,000 as a beginning. A broken-down detective, called John H. Evans, was imported by Gray as his brother-in-law. He was dying of consumption and bright disease. William Mitchell posed as Evans, and two reputable physicians examined him and pronounced him a good risk. He was known as Meredith when he wasn't Evans.

MURDER CHARGE.

The whole crowd, including Gray, was arrested on November 1. Dr. Harle, who was still in Chihuahua, was induced to come into the United States and was arrested. He was put through the third degree and made a confession about his connection with the two Chihuahua claims. The proceedings against Mitchell and Hurlburt on the Dallas plot were dropped. All three were extradited to Mexico for murder. This was in June, 1903.

STRANGE STORY.

Then the strange story of the two murdered Americans came out little by little, as the case was tried and retried. Hurlburt, it appeared, had brought a former stenographer away from Rochester as his wife. He went to Mexico and changed his name to Richardson. Then he got the insurance agency. This wife of his—his second wife she was—had been Helen Mitchell. Her brother, Harry Mitchell, came down from Rochester, via New Mexico, and lived with them in Chihuahua.

After awhile they got Harry Mitchell insured for $15,000 in favor of his sister, Helen. Then one day, February 11, 1902, Harry suddenly died. Dr. Harle, who was called in, said in the claim papers that it was spinal meningitis.

SOME TIME before Harry Mitchell's death Hurlburt, the agent, had gone up to El Paso. There he met a stranded mining man named James Devers. He persuaded Devers to accompany him to Chihuahua, and he and Devers went to live at a cheap boarding house as half-brothers. Devers, without his knowledge, was insured for $10,000 in favor of this "only relative." The papers were concocted by Harle, Hurlburt and Meredith. The evidence shows that they soaked him with whiskey that contained bichloride of mercury. The quantities were too small. So one day Dr. Harle was called in to attend to him. The three men went into a back room of the boarding house, and an hour later the doctor announced that Devers was dead. It was dysentery, he said. Devers had been poisoned with strychnine in cheese.

Devers died on February 22. The claim was not filed until July, in order to avert suspicion. When it was filed, Meredith, or Mitchell, wrote to the company that he had delayed because he intended visiting New York. He had given up the plan now, however, and would they please send the check for $10,000 to Fort Worth. "Meredith" made over the check to Hurlburt, and it was the indorsement "C. T. Richardson" on this check that set suspicion at work.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

Thanksgiving week will be appropriately ushered in by the presentation of Mendelssohn's famous choral work, "The Hymn of Praise," at the First Congregational Church, Oakland, next Sunday evening, November 28. The work is one of such difficulty as to demand its production by most choruses, excepting those of regularly organized oratorio societies. It contains some of Mendelssohn's greatest choral work and will be given in its entirety by the chorus choir of sixty voices, under the direction of Alexander Stewart, and the regular soloists of the church. Miss Virginia de Fremery, the organist of the church, will play several special organ numbers, in addition to the services, which commences at 7:30 o'clock, and the public is welcome.

MISS LOTTIE SCHAFFER DIES IN ARIZONA

Miss Lottie Schaffer, the niece of former Councilman Schaffer, died yesterday at Yuma, Arizona, where she had gone for her health. The remains will be forwarded to this city for interment.

HERB W. EDWARDS INJURED.

Herb W. Edwards of Des Moines, Iowa, got a fall on an icy walk last winter, spraining his wrist and bruising his knees. "The next day," he says, "they were so sore and stiff I was afraid I would have to stay in bed, but I rubbed them well with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications all soreness had disappeared. I feel that this bottle of Pain Balm saved me several days' time, to say nothing of the suffering." This liniment is for sale by Osgood Bros., corner Twelfth and Washington streets and corner Seventh and Broadway.

The Clothes of Gentility

No matter where you go, your Clothes proclaim what you are. They cry out your standing, your condition, your taste and your refinement—or lack of it. Nothing reveals character so quickly. An ill-fitting, poorly-made garment repels. The stylish, well tailored raiment charms. All Atterbury Clothes are of the latter kind, and the prices thereof are no higher than others ask for the other kind. Machine-made Clothes must necessarily evoke ridicule—it is only a matter of hours. But the hand-tailored attire, such as Atterbury, requires no effort on your part to preserve its dignity and repose.

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WEAK?

Thousands of Men and Women Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

To Prove What the Great Kidney Remedy, Swamp-Root, Will Do for YOU, Every Reader of The Tribune May Have a Sample Bottle Sent Absolutely Free by Mail.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected, and how every organ seems to fall to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feeling badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys begin to get better they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

I was out of health and run down generally; had no appetite; was dizzy and suffered with headache most of the time. I did not know that my kidneys were the cause of my trouble until I began taking Swamp-Root. There is such a pleasant taste to Swamp-Root and it goes right to the spot and drives disease out of the system. It has cured me, making me stronger and better in every way, and I cheerfully recommend it to all sufferers.

Gratefully yours,

MRS. A. L. WALKER,

231 Linden St., Atlanta, Ga.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for many kinds of diseases, and if permitted to continue much suffering and fatal results are sure to follow. Kidney trouble irritates the nerves, makes you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable. Makes you waste water often during the day and obliges you to get up many times during the night. Unhealthy kidneys cause rheumatism, gravel, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints and muscles; make your head ache and back ache; cause indigestion, stomach and liver trouble; give you a yellow complexion, make you feel as though you had heart trouble; you may have plenty of ambition, but no strength; get weak and waste away.

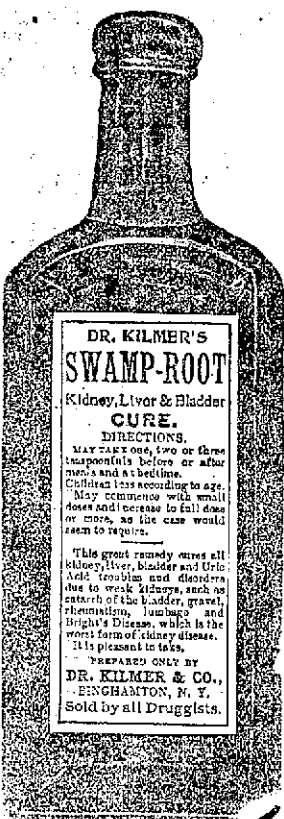

The cure for these troubles is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the world-famous kidney remedy. In taking Swamp-Root you afford natural help to Nature, for Swamp-Root is the most perfect healer and gentle aid to the kidneys that is known to medical science.

How to Find Out

If there is any doubt in your mind as to your condition, take from your urine on rising about four ounces, place it in a glass or bottle and let it stand twenty-four hours. If on examination it is milky or cloudy, if there is a brick-dust settling, or if small particles float about in it, your kidneys are in need of immediate attention.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is used in the leading hospitals, recommended by physicians in their private practice, and is taken by doctors themselves who have kidney ailments, because they recognize in it the greatest and most successful remedy for kidney, liver and bladder troubles.

EDITORIAL NOTE.—So successful is Swamp-Root in promptly curing even the most distressing cases of kidney, liver or bladder troubles, that to prove its wonderful merits we are sending out a valuable information, both sent absolutely free by mail. The book contains many of the thousands upon thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women cured. The value and success of Swamp-Root is so well known that our readers are advised to send for a sample bottle. In sending your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure to say you read this generous offer in the OAKLAND DAILY TRIBUNE. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

(Swamp-Root is pleasant to take)

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at the drug stores everywhere. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

LIFE IN BALANCE

Secure Portion of Jury to Try Percy Pembroke.

H. T. Smyth, J. F. Brandon, Albert Rhoda, O. F. Palmer, Robert Bonner, J. P. Rohrbaugh, D. Tyson are the men who have been selected so far as jurors in the trial of Percy Pembroke, charged with complicity in the murder of Thomas Cook at Fruitvale on the night of July 22 last. The examination of jurors is progressing slowly, and so far twenty-four have been excused besides the seven retained.

There were forty-six jurors in attendance at the beginning of the trial yesterday morning, leaving but fifteen out of which to complete the panel. Out of twenty, peremptory challenges Attorney Lin Church, for his client, resulting in the selection of the jury, has exhausted twelve. The District Attorney has only ten challenges, and of these has used five. There are still thirteen challenges left to them, and it is not believed that the remaining fifteen jurors will begin to be sufficient for the purpose of the trial, and probable adjournment of court will be necessary in order to give the Sheriff time in which to summon a special venire.

The trial of the case was shifted this morning from Department 5 to Department 1, which is the department usually presided over by Judge W. H. Wate, as it is believed that the latter room is more comfortable to the jurors, and the jury is placed in the light in such a manner as to hurt the eyes of jurors and attorneys.

Beside the young prisoner sits his mother, bowed and anxiously listening to the questions put to the jurors and their promises to do justice without sympathy, as the evidence shall direct. Behind the boy sits his father, and within the rail other members of the family have seats. The courtroom is well filled with spectators and jurors, and interest in the case is undiminished.

James Crowhurst, has been returned to the police, so that he will not be a witness in the present case, he having had no conversations with either Pembroke or Schneider. Neither of the boys will be able to show that they were not implicated in the affair at the outset, but called in the case, so that he will not be a witness in the present case, he having had no conversations with either Pembroke or Schneider. TO CONVEY PRISONERS.

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 23.—Arrangements have been made by Russian officials who came from Vladivostok by the cruiser Bogatyr to send the 72,000 Russian prisoners from Japan to Vladivostok in German steamers. The intention was to send the prisoners to Odessa by steamer but the explosion in Russia has caused an alteration of plans.

SALVAGE OPERATIONS.

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 23.—Salvage operations were progressing vigorously by the tugboat Gunter, which was sent by the Shawmut left Japan, the authorities being determined to raise her with the least possible delay. The theory now entertained in Japanese naval circles for her loss is that composition set in among the explosives in the magazine and a spontaneous combustion resulted.

INQUEST INTO BOY'S DEATH

JOSEPH A. WILLEY'S BROTHER TELLS OF THE LAD'S WILD CAREER.

MARTINEZ, Nov. 23.—Coroner Curry and a jury yesterday held the formal inquest in the case of Joseph A. Willey, the Oakland youth who met his death on Sunday evening last, after a pistol duel with Southern Pacific train hands and officers of the law. A considerable amount of testimony was given and the verdict was that Willey came to his death as a result of being struck by the Southern Pacific train.

Willey's brother came here from Oakland for the inquest. He stated that Joseph Willey had been very wild for years past, and that since joining the "teamsters" Union a few months ago he had gone from bad to worse. Brakeman Reeves, Deputy Conductor "Elly" Williams, Engineer Jeffries and others who witnessed the death of Willey testified. The jurors found that Willey, despite the fact that he emptied every chamber of his revolver, did not at any time show any intent to kill or ever injure. The testimony all pointed to this conclusion, and it seems almost certain that Willey was the aggressor. Money to believe that Brakeman Reeves could have escaped death when he first attempted to put Willey off the train had the latter been minded to kill. Willey's body will be removed to Alameda county, where it may be buried at the county's expense.

REDDING, Cal., Sept. 7, 1897. This is to certify that after being an inveterate consumer of intoxicants for a number of years, I took a course of treatment of the Connelley Liquor Cure, and after several months' experience can and do cheerfully and heartily recommend the treatment to those who desire to be free from the baneful effects of drink.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 7th day of September, 1897, by CONNELL, H. GRAVES, Notary Public in and for Shasta county, California.

REDDING, Cal., Sept. 11, 1905. Dear Sir: Yours received this a. m. asking me if you can still use my letter. Yes, certainly you can. I am still sober and in the best of health; have no desire for drink, and you can certainly do the work. You know

Dr. H. R. Connelley— I made an affidavit to my letter. Why did I? So others would believe me and be cured. Yours with best wishes, GEO. F. GRAVES.

Never Missed a Meal. REDDING, Cal., Aug. 1893. H. R. Connelley— Dear Sir: It is now more than a year since I took your treatment and I have not taken a drink of liquor nor have I had a desire to do so. Neither have I missed a meal. Aside from the cure of the liquor disease, I would not take $500 for the benefit it has been to my general health. I think it will cure any of the ills of life, except, perhaps, a broken bone. Yours truly, M. F. ROSE.

No Desire to Drink. MARYSVILLE, Cal., Sept. 1, 1899. The Connelley Liquor Cure Co.— Dear Sir: Your letter of recent date received. I am feeling fine; better than I have for a long time. Have no desire to drink; in fact, I never think of it even when anyone drinks in my presence. My appetite is good and my digestion in the best condition. The fact is, I am a different man altogether. Your friend, GEO. W. KASRIEL.

A Quart of Whiskey a Day. WEST POINT, Sept. 24, 1899. Dr. H. R. Connelley— Dear Friend: I finished taking your treatment last Wednesday, and am happy to say that I am cured. I have no desire for drink whatever. I look, feel and act like a different man altogether; everybody speaks of it. Although no one except a couple of intimate friends of mine (both slaves to the habit) and my own folks know that I took the cure, but they will, I suppose, later on. People say, "What a change in Bill Connelley since he quit drinking, and that is something I am proud of. I am altogether a new man and can safely say that I am in the best of health. I will do all in my power to help you on the restoration of your treatment. If I could have taken your cure years ago I would have been well fixed today. I have been using liquor since I was 15 years of age; I am now 32. For the last year or two I drank very heavy—a quart a day; if I could get it, I would do almost anything for liquor, but, thank God, that craving has gone and I hope never to return. Words cannot express how thankful I am to you for the good you have done me, and may God bless you in your good work. Yours most truly, W. W. CONGDEN.

GIGANTIC VEGETABLES WHICH CREATE WONDERMENT AMONG VISITING TOURISTS.

The windows of the Board of Trade attract passers-by at every hour of the day, and justly so, because there are on exhibition there three varieties of vegetables which are of dimensions never exceeded in this section of the country.

One of these is a garden beet, which weighs 3 1/4 pounds, is 37 inches in length and 3 1/4 inches in circumference. It is large enough to supply a family of a dozen with beet slices for more than a week. It was raised on the property of John Hunter, 706 Peralta street. It arouses a great deal of interest even among people of this section, who are accustomed to such liberal development in the floral, horticultural and vegetable kingdoms of this vicinity, but it is marveled at by Eastern tourists, who feast their eyes, for the first time, on this remarkable product of the teeming richness of California soil.

Lying beside the beet is a tomato large and luscious enough to supply gustatory delight to several epicures for a couple of days. This succulent production is also to be credited to the Hunter garden on Peralta street.

A third feature of this jumbo collection of vegetables is a gourd about three feet long which is extremely well developed at one extremity and tapers almost to a point at the other. This is the product of the garden of J. P. Marlan at San Lorenzo.

PRIZEFIGHT
INQUIRYCourt-Martial Proceedings in Case of Mid-shipman.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 23.—The second day of the court-martial proceedings in the case of Midshipman Miner Meriwether Jr., was not nearly so eventful as the first day, nor was so much ground covered.

The principal witness called was Surgeon L. P. Stone of the Naval Academy Staff. He gave a detailed account of Branch's symptoms, his treatment and the changes in his condition leading up to his death. The death, he said, was primarily due to oedema of the vessels of the brain, though this was not disclosed by the operation, and no autopsy was performed, as Branch's parents would not consent.

Midshipman A. M. Fitch, the referee of the Meriwether-Branch fight, who admits to acting as referee in fifteen similar encounters, was questioned as to the use of the gloves which were used in the fight at the Academy. These gloves are used to protect the hands when punching the bag, but Fitch said that there was no regulation as far as he knew against their use in the friendly boxing matches at the Academy gymnasium. He also said that he had never seen them so used. In answer to a question by a member of the court, Fitch said that he believed the gloves used at regular prize fights weighed about a half or three-quarters of an ounce.

The only witnesses called during the morning session besides Surgeon Stone were Lieutenant-Commander H. J. Ziegemeier and Hospital Steward John F. Mahan. The former was called to prove that the articles for the government of the navy which contain the prohibitions against fighting were read to all midshipmen during the summer, during which the witness commanded the Hartford, on which Meriwether was stationed.

Much of the remainder of the direct testimony was on the technical points connected with Branch's injuries.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—In the new map for 1905, issued by the General Land Office, the little dot of land lying off the coast of Cuba and known as the Isle of Pines, will no longer have the letters "U. S." following its name. This decision has been reached by the General Land Office, which, since 1900, has designated this bit of land "Pine Island, U. S." The official maps have had the island indicated as an American possession for over four years. Frank Dorn, chief of the map division of the General Land Office, said today that the letters "U. S." had been placed after Pine Island by mistake, and that the error would be rectified on the new maps. There is no pending in the Senate a treaty formally turning the island over to the Republic of Cuba.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—A practical joke nearly cost Robert Kelly, the son of Special Policeman Con Kelly, his life last night, when in a split of jest he tried to frighten Ernest Gaddini, a wholesale wine merchant, by playing the part of a footpad. Kelly was struck by one of five shots fired by Gaddini.

The bullet did not penetrate the skull, but plowed a furrow through the cheek and lodged at the base of the nose. Gaddini has been charged with assault with a deadly weapon, but Kelly says he will not prosecute the case, as the shooting was evidently done by mistake. Both men, with a number of other young people, were returning from a social gathering when the shooting occurred.

Sinclair was charged with insanity by his wife, and after an examination, which lasted a part of two days, Drs. Buteau and Shirk were undecided and unable to arrive at a definite conclusion in the matter, and he has now been placed on probation to see how he acts for the next few weeks. He has promised to go to work, and is going to live with his father for a time, and see if this will not give him a change that will be beneficial.

Bert Young Sam Hany and "Dago" Hany, three young boys, entered the barn of the Parrish Express & Dry Company last night and stole three blankets. These they carried to the corner of Third and Webster street, where a disused steam boiler was turned into a bad chamber. This morning they were discovered by William Such, an employee of the Parrish company, and turned over to the police. It is not known yet whether the boys will be prosecuted or not.

Marble palaces cannot be built with bricks, nor can fine cigars be made with poor tobacco.

To make a thing right it is necessary to have proper material—and that is what the ordinary cigar manufacturer hardly ever possesses. Small planters, ignorant of its future use, grow his tobacco—leaf dealers buy it and cure it improperly, eager for quick sales: when he finally gets it he can only hope it is what he requires. There is no blind chance in "A" (Triangle A) methods that produce, among other brands,

"A" (Triangle A) experts on the plantations direct the growing and harvesting of the tobacco, knowing exactly where and in what class of cigars each grade of leaf will be used. Cremona Reina Victoria is a new size in a cigar always famously good, but which under the perfected processes of the "A" (Triangle A) has reached a pinnacle of quality unapproached by any cigar ever sold at this price. Control of cultivation is only one of the reasons that make the brands that bear the "A" (Triangle A) the finest cigars at their respective prices ever offered to the public.

any must maintain a perfect record in the first grade six months before he can be considered for parole. A misdemeanant may be considered for parole after three months of perfect conduct in the first grade. Of a man who receives a maximum sentence of five years may, by exemplary conduct, earn his liberty in one year. A three-year man may go out in nine months, but the average time for all classes ranges between fifteen and eighteen months.

The instruments available for reform are mentioned in the official reports of the institution as being "religious, ethical, literary, intellectual, manual and physical instruction." In private conversation with one close to the disciplinary and reformatory work the main reliance is differently stated. They are habits of industry, knowledge of industry, the personalities of the officials with whom the prisoners come in contact, and then religion, education and ethical instruction in the order here given. There is a great deal that religion will not do for a man unless he gets a good deal of it and prisoners are not wont to drink deeply at that fountain, although some of them may make a pretense beyond what the facts will warrant.

As with the reform schools, so it is with the reformatory: few of those committed have gone far in school. The greater portion dropped out of school at the third or fourth grades.

FEW SKILLED MECHANICS.

The prisoners here are as uniformly innocent of industry as of education, and there are almost no skilled mechanics among them. There are exceptions to this statement of facts, but its truth is almost universal in every reform school or reformatory institution between the Atlantic and the Pacific oceans. Whatever other attributes convicts may or may not have in common, they have neither an education nor a trade.

The training the prisoners get at Concord Reformatory is in the line of the work with Sloyd, as far as it is possible to find bench room for the lads to work, and the superintendent of industries laments that he has not greater opportunity in this department. When the young men come to the benches they are stupid and without enthusiasm for anything. Sloyd, he insists, strengthens the mind and stimulates the enthusiasm, and opens the way for industry of a higher grade.

Half of each day is spent in some form of manual training and half in what are known as the "productive trades," in which there are nine prosecuted for profit's sake. The building is also done by the inmates.

GIVING ERRING A CHANCE.

To make a long story short, Concord Reformatory gives the erring man a chance, and not only gives it to him but forces him to take it—a policy that would have saved him from the disgrace of imprisonment had he been forced upon him by the paternal strap or maternal slipper at an earlier period of his career. The fault, in nine cases out of ten, is right there. It is careless bringing up until the late, the industrial schools, reformatories and prisons, and a good deal of this carelessness is remediable by law if backed by public sentiment, as it is in Connecticut, for instance.

Of the inmates of the reformatory, only about ten per cent of the men committed to Concord Reformatory are classed as constitutionally deficient. The rest are as well born as is usual with the human race in general.

The results of the reformatory work in Concord are not to be stated in precise figures. They are not wholly calculable but, roughly speaking, seventy-five per cent of all those committed to the Concord Reformatory do not afterwards figure in the criminal annals of Massachusetts. Some fall by the wayside locally, and quite a number bring up in Charlestown prison, as criminals of a more confirmed type.

EDUCATIONAL WORK.

Educational work is done through an evening school. Literary societies are maintained by the convicts of the first grade and much liberty is allowed those workers. The third grade men are dressed in red and are herded by themselves. The other two grades are allowed to mingle rather freely and to sit quietly and talk when, through no fault of their own, they are not at work. The difficulty is for the prison and not the prison for the discipline. In the State prison in Connecticut this order is reversed, with, as I believe, not very fortunate results upon the lives of the prisoners.

The punishments imposed are not severe, and in no case is corporal chastisement inflicted. Bad conduct brings deprivation of privileges, and sometimes solitary confinement in the work rooms with a meagre diet, but it is made easy for the prisoners to do right and unprofitable for them to do wrong, and so the problem of discipline is not a troublesome one.

I think that if California had such an institution as the Concord Reformatory, managed by such men, and as thoroughly out of politics, it would prove an invaluable aid in reclaiming to right living the wayward sons of our more careless fellow citizens who have ventured to become fathers without a proper sense of the responsibilities of fatherhood.

HOW MASSACHUSETTS CARES FOR ITS EPILEPTICS

A. J. Pillsbury Tells How it Deals With This Social Problem.

A STUDY OF EPILEPSY.
How the State of Massachusetts Deals With One of the Hardest of Social Problems

A. J. Pillsbury, agent for the Governor, who is touring in the East, writes as follows:

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 4, 1906.—An epileptic fit has been explained to me as being an explosion of nerve force that should have lasted all day, but which has unfortunately expended itself in a few moments. It is possible to have such a combination of circumstances created as would cause anyone to have a fit. We are all of us possible, but not probable, epileptics, and we do not greatly differ from epileptics except in the degree of this likelihood of suffering "seizures," as these paroxysms are called.

Furthermore, epilepsy is not looked upon as being a disease, but only a symptom of a disease. There is something wrong somewhere that predisposes to, or permits, a sudden discharge of vital forces which should have been furnished in steady supply as the necessities of orderly life demanded. Just where the trouble is has not, in many cases, been ascertained, and it is by no means certain that the same trouble is to be found in many instances.

Massachusetts is trying to take good care of as many of its epileptics as demand public care. It is not done strictly as a State charge, except as to management. Each town pays part, at least, of the cost of caring for its own patients at the State institution at Palmer, or at the private institution for children at Baldwinville.

PALMER PLAN OF OPERATION.
The institution at Palmer is partly on the institutional and partly on the colony plan. There are now 550 patients there, all over 14 years of age, and from there on up to old age. Those who are able, pay $5 per week. The towns pay $2.50 for their indigent cases. The insane epileptics are supported by the State.

The Palmer plant has 500 acres, not strictly of land, but acres of the earth's surface, composed of land and rock, hill and dale. There is a group of substantial brick buildings, and a few cottages of less costly construction accommodating thirty or thirty-five patients in each cottage. There is one attendant to each twelve or fifteen patients, and the sleeping apartments are mainly small dormitories, although the management thinks that there should be sixty per cent of single rooms and dormitories for not more than four persons each. This would bring the per capita cost for housing up to $750 for buildings of substantial construction.

THEORIES ABOUT CAUSES.
As for the causes of epilepsy, the information gleaned at Palmer did not differ greatly from that at Sorsby. Much epilepsy is hereditary, if not in the sense of being directly transmitted from epileptic parents, then from parents who were insane or imbecile, or deficient in some other way. Dr. Hodgkins, the assistant physician, thinks that the seat of the difficulty is in the brain and is molecular, but autopsies and microscopic examinations have not, as yet, made this certain.

Dr. Flood, the superintendent at Palmer, and Dr. Page, superintendent at Baldwinville, unite in the opinion that the will power, well educated, can have a great deal to do in preventing epilepsy. A child may bring on a fit of its own accord, and usually through petulance. It may also have a fit, or avoid it altogether if it will be educated.

VALUE OF SELF CONTROL.
Right here a great popular deficiency has existed. Epileptic children have uniformly been humored and seldom taught to mind anyone. Therefore, they have never developed self control and fly off the handle at the slightest provocation. At the institution at Baldwinville implicit obedience is insisted on at whatever cost to the superintendent, the attendant or the child. When once the patient has learned to be controlled it can be taught self control, and self control can do much to limit the number of seizures and their severity. If not ward them off altogether and so effect a permanent cure.

At Palmer, not much attention is paid to the diet except to have a well regulated mixed diet, with comparatively little meat and little of the sweets and of pastry. With the epileptic children at Baldwinville much more attention is paid to the diet, which has been studied carefully in individual cases and with results more or less fortunate. Over-eating, for which epileptics have a strong predilection, is a prolific source of seizures, and some children can not eat sweets at all without having fits.

CURES RELATIVELY FEW.
As to the cures, the results at both institutions are distressingly low. At Palmer, out of 550 patients, twenty-five are regarded as hopeful of recovery, while only two have, in eight years, been discharged as cured. This is not quite a fair indication of the best that can be done, for the reason that when the institution at Palmer was established, all of the chronic and epileptic insane in the State were transferred to this institution. There were, at Palmer, no children under 14 years, and this has not only reduced the hopefulness of effecting cures, but has deprived the medical staff of opportunity for studying acute cases. It would seem as though a cottage for epileptic children at Palmer would be in the interests of science, but there will be opposition to the establishment of such a cottage until the institution at Baldwinville has been filled to overflowing.

At Baldwinville about ten per cent of the epileptic children are set down as cured. That is, when a child has not suffered a seizure for a year and has been otherwise perfectly well, it is classed as cured; but it is not at all certain that bad living outside may not bring back the disorder at any time and with its old-time rigor.

The average cost of maintaining patients at Baldwinville is $4.02 per week. I give these figures that comparisons may be made with the cost of maintenance in California, but, unfortunately, the figures as to California have been lost out of my head somewhere along the road.

LITTLE ACCOMPLISHED.
One point deserves especial attention. It is the commonly received opinion in the institutions here that epilepsy must be taken in hand very early in life if hope of cure is to be seriously entertained. Epilepsy of five years' standing is almost hopeless, and the culmination of it is not unlikely to be insanity.

Surgical operations accomplish little. The very shock of the operation sometimes suspends the seizures for several months, but those who go into the skull with saw and knife seldom have clear ideas of what they are going after, and what they expect to find when they get there. Unless they have such ideas, with something to base them on, they will do well to refrain from operating. It is hard to convince surgeons of this, but the experts I have met are of this opinion.

A. J. PILLSBURY.

BAY STATE.
Massachusetts has no better system of caring for its feeble minded women of child-bearing age than has California, which means that it has no system at all. Some of these women are in the women's prison at Sherborn, and quite a number are at Waverly Home for Feeble Minded Children, where they are equally out of place. Many of them are criminals with bad criminal records. Every state needs to make provision for this class of dependents, and California has as great need as any other commonwealth.

If taken in hand in childhood and put through such a training as is afforded children at Waverly, most of the feeble minded girls are made contented and happy, are preserved for themselves, and are made not a little useful, but for their permanent custodial care they need, in adult life, an institution for the undertaking of that special work and take away and apart from the training.

of feeble minded children. This is a problem by itself and demands a more special attention than can be given it by a management whose best thought and greatest enthusiasm should be given to strengthening weak minds and arousing dormant intellects.

A. J. PILLSBURY.
THE REFORMATORY AT ITS BEST.
Concord is a Good Type of a Penal Institution for the Younger Set of Criminals.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 5, 1905.
The State Reformatory at Concord, Massachusetts, is one of the most interesting institutions I have had the good fortune to visit. It would be too much to say of it that it is superior to anything else in its class, but it is as interesting and as full of promise for California as any penal institution I know of.

On the day of my visit there were 845 prisoners within the walls of the Concord Reformatory, and it should be understood at the outset that this reformatory is as much of a prison as any institution in California, and rather more of a prison than is San Quentin. It is walled, ceiled and guarded with due regard to the safe keeping of the prisoners, but its purposes is reformation rather than punishment, and reformation is not found to be inconsistent with prison discipline.

FROM SIXTEEN TO FORTY.
This reformatory is set apart for young offenders and for first offenders. The age limits are sixteen to forty. The maximum age for drunkenness (in Massachusetts) they do look mean up for being drunk and keep them locked up for a year and a day if not longer) is 35 years. It may be of interest to note that by far the greater number of commitments for the offense of drunkenness occurs between the ages of 25 and 30. The system of grading in the reformatory is similar to, if not exactly the conventional type approved by modern penal institutions. There are three grades. The new prisoner takes his place in the second grade, from which he may rise to the first or be demoted to the third grade. It is up to him.

On the third grade he earned in seven consecutive months will advance a prisoner from second grade to first. As a further inducement, if he be perfect for the first four consecutive months, he will be given a bonus of 150 credits, making possible to reach promotion in six months.

MEMBERSHIPS INCREASING IN THE LODGES

Local Fraternal Organizations Are Working Hard to Strengthen Their Orders.

BROOKLYN LODGE, F. & A. M.
Brooklyn Lodge No. 126, F. & A. M., at East Oakland, will confer the third degree Tuesday evening, November 23.

ROYAL ARCANUM.
Sierra Council No. 1042 is to go this evening to visit Le Conte Council of Berkeley. The members are to meet at the southwest corner of Thirteenth and Broadway at 8 o'clock. All members who can be requested to join the party.
Next Monday evening Sierra Council is to give a whist tournament for members only, and as there are a good many enthusiasts among the members, an evening full of interest is expected. Any members of the Royal Arcanum are cordially invited to attend, and are assured a hearty welcome. The meeting is to be held in the Forsters' building, corner of Thirteenth and Clay streets, at 8 o'clock.

FRATERNAL BROTHERHOOD.
By far the most successful affair that Oakland Lodge No. 123, F. B. B., has yet given, was the fifth annual ball that organization held in Maple Hall last Thursday evening. The hall was crowded to overflowing, and the many beautiful costumes worn gave color to the picture.

The hall was elaborately decorated and the music played for the dancing. Punch and other light refreshments were served in the dancing hall, while ice cream was served in the hall below without charge. At tonight's meeting a large class of candidates will be initiated into the regular routine of business will be attended to, and the remaining portion of the evening will be devoted to dancing and whist. The whist prizes will be awarded at the final meeting of the season.

UNION TRIBE, I. O. R. M.

On the 24th of this month, Union Tribe will keep open house. This second house warming of the season will far outdistance their last affair. Besides the home talent, a host of outside entertainers have been secured. Entertainment is being given by Arthur Magill, Dr. P. H. Kelly, M. A. Campbell and Frank Gates. Of their own members Bro. Schaefer has promised to tear off some rags, Bro. Scott to prepare and read a paper, and Bro. Ketchum to make for more interesting entertainment with his friend Casey. With this array there surely ought to be something doing. The wigwag will be open to all Red Men, and palaces bearing invitation.

The last council of the tribe the business proved of the usual interest. There was no lull in the receipt of applications, the one at this meeting being from Perry E. Hayes. Nominations for officers for the ensuing term were opened and, from present indications, there will be a spirited contest for several offices. Candidates are marshaling their forces and preparing to make a strong run. The coming month there should be no lack of entertainment at the regular councils.

The brothers were much pleased to note the presence of Bro. M. A. Campbell, a past master from the reservations of Washington. During the evening we had more than one occasion to be glad that he was with us, and when he arose to address the tribemen in a few timely and pleasing remarks, he was enthusiastically received. May we have you with us on many future occasions, Brother Campbell.

IVY LODGE, D. OF H.

A large crowd attended the musical given by the "Blue Team" of Ivy Lodge last Monday evening. A special feature was the burlesque drill given in compliance to the Oakland Circle team, which delighted the previous Monday evening for the first time. The drill was becomingly dressed in white suits with blue caps and shoes. This drill afforded much amusement for the guests of the lodge. Much credit was given to the "Blue Team" who drilled the young ladies. This team is contemplating challenging the San Francisco drill team. After the musical, refreshments were served and speeches were made for the good of the order. The evening closed, however, on the last night of the contest, friends will be entertained by the "Blue Team."

The red team will try and make things hum for a few minutes anyway in their "last night" of the contest. The night of glory during their last night of existence. Seven applications were presented by the red team at the last meeting of Ivy Lodge.

The ratio also takes place on Monday, November 27. Every member, blue or red, is requested to be on hand and the public are cordially invited to be present. Come! Laugh! Applaud and be merry.

OAKLAND COURT, NO. 6.

Oakland Court, No. 6, Tribe of Ben Hur, held a successful meeting at the temple, 1650 Broadway, last Monday evening. The members were active and gave in their reports to capture the State prize banner and, judging from present indications, will surely make a good showing. The evening was a very successful one, and the members were very much pleased to see the success of the order. The evening was a very successful one, and the members were very much pleased to see the success of the order.

ANCIENT ORDER FORESTERS.
Wednesday evening, November 16, Court Athens was tendered a surprise in two forms. When the degree team retired to prepare for the initiation, the candidates were waiting for the court did not expect or were they prepared to see the generous government of the order. The court room to go through the initiation without a hitch. Giving credit where it belongs, the work was performed splendidly. Aiding about 9 o'clock there was an unusual alarm at the outer door, and on inquiry the cause, the people were confronted by a large delegation of ladies. Athens Circle had decided to give the parent court a surprise and brought along with them a pleasant hour was passed at the banquet tables, after which the carpet was rolled back, and the ladies were initiated in the night, when everybody departed to their homes contented with the thought that they had passed a pleasant evening.

THE AMERICANS.
Great activity is being displayed in every assembly of "The Americans" in Alameda county as well as in San Francisco and other parts of the State. Four candidates were initiated in Old Elgin No. 22, last evening, and an equal number in Oakland Assembly No. 2.

Last evening Old Elgin Assembly met in Pythian Hall and initiated another class of candidates, and if the present rate of increase continues this assembly will be one of the leaders.

Oakland No. 103 at South Berkeley, continues to add to its membership every week. The meeting there tonight will be one full of interest, as the members of other assemblies are invited to be present. The meeting is to be held at 8 o'clock. The members of the Oakland No. 103 are all in a prosperous condition. Washington No. 8, will initiate thirty union members at 8 o'clock. THE ROYAL HIGHLANDERS.
California Castle, No. 459, the Royal Highlanders, met in regular session in their Castle Hall, at which time a very rousing meeting was held.

As usual, a number of names were voted upon and elected to membership, and the short form initiatory work was used in conducting the refugees into the Castle's stronghold.

On November 23, 1905, the Castle will give its second Prize Whist tournament, which has all the promise of success.

LIVE OAK, K. OF P.

Last Wednesday evening Live Oak Lodge No. 17, K. of P., held its usual interesting session. In the evening a great deal of business was transacted after which the brothers present enjoyed a sociable game of whist.

The committee on Social Reunion reported progress, and the committee on the nomination of officers for the ensuing term. An interesting meeting is looked forward to.

BEN HUR COURT NO. 12.

Ben Hur Court No. 12 has the reputation of making a success of everything it undertakes, and last Friday evening another laurel was added to its crown of victories. In the initiation of the officers did splendid work, while C. B. Moon as Teacher, gave their difficult parts especially well. At the close of initiation, Bro. E. J. McPherson, Chief of Oakland Court, No. 6, was asked to take the chair. Brother and Sister Marquardt were then escorted about the hall while the Ben Hur band played "Hail to the Chief." Brother McPherson, in a few well chosen words, presented Brother Marquardt with a beautiful gold seal ring that the members of Court No. 12 gave him in hearty appreciation of his faithful services as Chief since the Court was organized two and a half years ago. Sister Marquardt was also presented with a beautiful plate. To say that they were surprised expresses would be too mild. They were surprised to hear their thanks to the members but words failed them. The surprise was not finished yet, for they were then escorted by the members and a large number of invited guests to the banquet room, where a delightful banquet had been secretly prepared by the ladies. Many kind and pleasant toasts were given, and Sister Ralston gave one of her best literary papers. Sisters Fulcher and Moon are entitled to much praise for the success of the evening.

VETERAN LODGE, I. O. G. T.

Veteran Lodge, No. 7, I. O. G. T., meets this evening at 8 o'clock in Loring Hall, Eleventh and Clay streets. There will be the usual interesting and profitable meeting. Brother Fred Humphrey, the C. T. elect, was not able to be out last meeting as anticipated, but he will be better, and it is hoped that he will be installed this evening. Sister Rachel Palenbaum, one of the faithful workers of Veteran Lodge, who has been very sick for a couple of weeks, is reported better and is expected to be in the lodge this evening.

A couple of young soldiers from the Presidio were initiated into Veteran Lodge last meeting, and it is expected that three or four more will join this evening.

Another interesting feature of Veteran Lodge this evening will be the conferring of the District Degree by some of the members of the different Lodges who cannot go to Palo Alto to attend the District Lodge, which convenes in Palo Alto on Saturday.

All members of Veteran Lodge should be present this evening. Visitors from other Lodges are always welcome.

OAKLAND LODGE, K. OF P.

The conferring of the Third Rank on three Esquimaux by the well-known team of Oakland Lodge No. 103, together with the musical program was expected to bring a large attendance at its session on last Thursday evening, and expectations were more than realized. A large number of visitors from the surrounding area, and visitors from Alameda, 17, and Drigo, No. 224, and many others were present. All were pleased with the character of work done in the Impregnable Degree of Knight, and the updates after initiation and under the head of "Good of the Order" fascinated themselves on being members of the Order.

The three new members are Edward

It Is Free

To All Who Need It—the First Bottle of Liquezone

We have no wish to argue what Liquezone can do. The simple truth would seem exaggeration. The results we have seen from this remarkable product would sound impossible, until you have tried it.

So we ask you to try it—to try it at our expense. The product itself will do more to convince you than anything we could say. Test it yourself, as millions have done. Then judge the power of the product by the results that it brings you. Judge, if you wish to continue.

Kills Disease Germs

Contact with Liquezone kills any form of disease germ, because germs are of vegetable origin. Yet to the body Liquezone is not only harmless, but helpful in the extreme. That is its main distinction. Common germs are poisons when taken internally. That is why medicine has been so helpless in a germ disease. Liquezone is an extraordinary vitalizing, purifying, yet no disease germ can exist in it.

The virtues of Liquezone are derived solely from gases. They are generated from the best producers of oxygen, sulphur, dioxide and other germicidal gases. The process of making requires large apparatus, and from 3 to 14 days' time. The object is to so fix and combine the gases as to carry into the system a powerful tonic-germicide.

We purchased the American rights to Liquezone after thousands of tests had been made with it. Its power had been proved, again and again, in the most difficult germ diseases. Then we offered to supply the first bottle free

The Strategy of Transportation

George Gould is having executed a map of the territory lying west of the Missouri river, which, notwithstanding it is projected on a scale of eight miles to the inch, is to be thirty-five by thirty feet in size. The work is being done by a noted map-making firm of the city of New York, and a representative of the publishing house has recently exhibited in San Francisco the sheets, or sections, of the map embracing the States of Utah, Nevada and California. Every mile of railroad now constructed is presented on this map; every county line is carefully drawn; every town that deserves the name is located with geographical accuracy and the proposed line of the Western Pacific Railroad is distinctly delineated.

The line of this new road as delineated reaches the headwaters of the Humboldt river in the vicinity of Wells, and parallels the main line of the Central Pacific Railway to Winnemucca. At this point it strikes westward, over the Black Rock Desert, and through the southern portion of the Honey Lake valley, leaving Susanville to the north about twelve miles. It reaches Quincy, Oroville, Marysville, Sacramento and Stockton, and finally reaches the bay of San Francisco in the city of Oakland. Its ultimate termination has not been put on this map, but the delineation is said to be the line of definite location, upon which construction is to be commenced at once.

The most significant feature of this map is the carefully studied topography and the indication of possible branch lines. Opportunity for a detailed examination of the map was not afforded, but a cursory examination of it discloses the intention of Mr. Gould to build a complete network of local lines, which will serve all of the populous districts of California, Oregon and Nevada, one of the notable delineations being a line leaving the main line of the Western Pacific between Winnemucca and the summit of the Sierras and going northward to Klamath Falls, thence running east of the Cascade range to possible connection with the Northern Pacific and the Columbia river. After entering California projected lines disperse themselves throughout the timbered region east of Mt. Shasta. In addition to this, independent lines, as a possible future, radiate from the bay of San Francisco. The line of road appears to have been governed by ascertained practicability in the way of feeders to the main line, and with very distinct reference to the highest strategy in overland transportation.

When completed this map will be a notable triumph of topographical and geographical presentation. It is obviously the outline for a grand plan for the most notable railroad extension that has ever been conceived in this country, and is a very gratifying indication that a new era in railroad construction of the highest importance to the commercial and industrial interests of the Pacific Coast is dawning.

Furthermore, it indicates that Mr. Gould is not going to content himself with building a single trunk line from connection with his system of railroads to tidewater on the bay of San Francisco, but intends to build in consonance with a well-laid general scheme which, when completed, will serve every portion of Pacific Coast territory, wherever profitable business for a branch line or road can be found.

The announcement that large shipments of turkeys are being made from Texas to meet the California demand for Thanksgiving Day birds is not gratifying to our local pride nor a testimonial to the enterprise of the poultry-raisers of this State. California breeds as fine turkeys as can be raised anywhere, yet the prices are usually higher here than anywhere in the East. Rarely, if ever, is the local supply equal to the demand. It seems all wrong for us to buy eggs from Utah and turkeys from Nebraska, Missouri and Texas, as we habitually do. There is no substantial reason why we should do so. The chief trouble in this respect is that poultry-raising is rather too small business for the average Californian, and exacts too close attention to business to suit our free and easy ways. Yet poultry-raising is an exceedingly profitable business in California. In Alameda county it is particularly lucrative, for the conditions here are ideal, the market close at hand, the demand active and the prices good.

A rather singular judgment was recently rendered in Baltimore. That city requires all real estate brokers to take out a license. Henry M. Walker sued a firm of real estate dealers to recover $1125 commission on a sale he alleged he had negotiated for them. The defense was that the plaintiff was not entitled to recover because he was not a licensed broker, and the court decided that the plea was a valid one. From the brief report of the case in the Baltimore Sun, it does not appear that the service was denied or the commission claimed exorbitant. If that be the case, the court's ruling does not appeal to common sense as equitable. The justice of Walker's claim was in novise abridged by his failure to comply with a municipal statute; his neglect to take out a license did not lessen the service he rendered his clients or absolve them from the moral obligation resting upon them to pay for such service. The license matter would seem to the lay mind an issue between Walker and the municipality. However, some honest men can manage to creep through a very small hole when they desire to evade paying their just debts.

It is to be hoped that the controversy as to whether there shall be a lock or a sea level canal at Panama will not result in a blocked canal. A controversy on this point is not the best thing that could happen just when the Commission is on the eve of asking Congress for more money.

Making Our Islands Prosperous

A New York paper says all that is necessary to make our insular possessions prosperous is to place a duty on coffee and establish free trade between the United States proper and Porto Rico and the Philippines. Coffee is the principal crop of Porto Rico and is extensively cultivated in Hawaii. Large areas in the Philippines are also adapted to coffee culture, though the staples of the archipelago are sugar, tobacco and hemp, which compete with agricultural industries in the United States. It may be all right to ask the sugar, tobacco and hemp producers of this country to do without protection, but it looks like piling the agony on to ask them to pay a tax on their coffee as well.

Bulletin 37 of the Bureau of Statistics, Department of Agriculture, shows that in 1904 we shipped but $5,188,925 worth of farm products to Porto Rico, while we imported therefrom $10,036,615 worth. To Hawaii we shipped farm products worth $3,559,057, while our imports of farm products—mostly sugar—were worth $24,795,259. To the Philippines our farmers sent $1,376,583 worth, and our consumers imported from those islands $11,995,665 worth. Whatever the benefits arising from our possession of a colonial empire, our farmers do not get them, it seems, but get a good deal of unhampered competition.

We have given the Cubans a low tariff on sugar and citrus fruits, and in consequence Cuba is rolling in prosperity. Last year we imported 736,000,000 pounds of duty free sugar from Hawaii. The Philippines have an enormous sugar-producing capacity, and Porto Rico can easily send us 100,000 tons annually. If we let all this sugar in tax free the sugar beet growers of California and the cane planters of Louisiana are likely to suffer, to say nothing of adding a new tax to the cost of the American breakfast table to pay for protecting the coffee industry of the islands we have acquired.

HEARST AND THE PRESIDENCY.

President Wheeler of the University of California, after leaving the White House the other day, declared that William R. Hearst would be a commanding figure in the next Democratic National convention if he was not seated as mayor New York. He seems to think that a term in the mayor's chair might prove fatal to Hearst in the National field—as indeed it might, and might not. The University of California, by the way, is under the patronage of Hearst's mother.—Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

A PIPE-DREAMING CORRESPONDENT.

A San Francisco correspondent of the Sacramento Union sends a weird letter this week of things political about to happen in this country. It is to the effect that the appointment of a postmaster at Berkeley "may become a subject of world politics." According to this letter, Congressman Knowland is on the brink of an abyss, Governor Pardee is all wrought up and ready to charge down upon Knowland and precipitate war, and that other cataclysms impend. A most striking simile is attempted in recalling the historic struggle at Waterloo, when Napoleon's marshal came up too late—and the marshal's name is given as "Grouchy." W. D. Pennycock of Vallejo is represented as being in the race for Congress. Which is news to all of us here, and to Mr. Pennycock of Vallejo. The correspondent has elucidated a matter, apparently, at somebody's prompting, and has not succeeded in getting the prompting very far into his head.—Alameda Argus.

OAKLAND AND THE UNDERWRITERS.

The insurance men have got after the Oakland water supply and fire-fighting facilities with a sharp stick. They think immense things should be done, so that the danger from fire would be lessened. The attitude of fire insurance men is that the citizen must at first spend enormous sums organizing a protection as a municipality, and then as individuals pay a thumping premium for insurance. Whenever it appears that as much as can be enforced is not being done by the municipality, a hue is raised to compel the rest to be done. The insurance men are generally so amiable that it is hard work to criticise them, but we hope they are able to stand a little jolt like this; for their hue and cry is so characteristic that it seems a shining mark.—Alameda Argus.

He fashioned lyrics as he flew
With love for their refrain.

Poet of vines and blossoms, he;
Beloved of them all;

Grew bold at his glad call.

He sang the rapture of the hills,
And from the starry height
He brought the melody that fills

DOUBLE-MINDED CHAMELEONS.

A most remarkable creature is the chameleon. To all appearances the nervous centers in one lateral half of this animal work independently of those on the other, and it has two lateral centers of perception—sensation and motion—besides the common one in which must reside the faculty of concentration. The eyes move independently of one another and convey separate impressions to their respective centers of perception. The consequence is that when the animal is agitated its movements resemble those of two animals, or rather perhaps, two halves of animals glued together. Each half wishes to go its own way and there is no concordance of action.

Therefore the chameleon is the only four-legged vertebrate that is unable to swim; it becomes so frightened when dropped into water that all faculty of concentration is lost and the creature tumbles about as if in a state of intoxication. When a chameleon is undistracted every impulse to motion is referred to the proper tribunal and the whole organism acts in accordance with its decrees. The eye, for example, that receives the strongest impression, propagates it to the common center, which then prevails upon the other eye to follow that impression and direct its gaze toward the same object.

Moreover, the chameleon may be fast asleep on one side and wide awake on the other. Cautiously approached at night with a candle so as not to awaken the whole animal at once, the eye turned toward the light will open, begin to move, and the corresponding side to change color. The other side will remain for a longer or shorter time in a torpid, motionless and unchanged state with its eye fast shut.

The marriage service will be read by Dr. Edward L. Parsons in the improvised floral bower built in the library. The couple will stand under a canopy of greens intertwined with Christmas berries and autumn leaves and clusters of tiny pink Cecil Brunner roses lend a touch of color to the green.

DEATH RESULTS IN EXPLORERS' FEVER

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—When Dillon Wallace returns to New York next April, as he is expected to, he will take a brief rest, and then, it is said, prepare a big expedition to visit the unexplored sections of Alaska. This is the program Wallace laid out before he started from New York to cross Labrador.

"Wallace has the explorers' fever," said Alonzo G. Wallace, his personal friend, yesterday. "And, if he succeeds in crossing Labrador I have no doubt that he will prepare to penetrate Alaska."

"There is an underlying motive in the Wallace expedition that is not in tone. The outside world does not know what that motive is, but the motive is there, just the same. It is the propeller of the whole expedition. Some years ago Wallace lost his wife, to whom he was much attached, and whom he can never get out of his life. From the moment she died, the restless spirit set in and Wallace has never found comfort except when on the trail towards some new land."

DARED TO WED THEY ACCEPT THE SUGGESTION ONE DAY AFTER ENGAGEMENT IS ANNOUNCED.

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, November 23.—Miss Louise Mills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Mills and Jesse Whitehead, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elisha P. Whitehead, were married under romantic circumstances yesterday at a downtown restaurant.

On the day previous they became engaged and announced their betrothal during the course of a luncheon with several friends at the same cafe.

Some one dared them to marry yesterday and they accepted the suggestion. In the presence of four witnesses, all chums of the young people, they were wedded by the Rev. John Archibald Morison, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

It practically was an elopement, for the parents of the couple knew nothing about the affair.

Following the ceremony in the restaurant the wedding party enjoyed a dinner, after which Mr. and Mrs. Whitehead left for New York and other points on a brief honeymoon trip.

The bride and groom are both 21 years of age and have known each other for about two years.

Mr. Whitehead is a grandson of the late George Lafin, who died nearly two years ago, leaving an estate of several million dollars. Mrs. Whitehead is well known in Kenwood society.

WOMAN, AGED 63, DIES THIRD TIME

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Nov. 23.—Mrs. Emma Allison, first matron of the Battle Creek sanitarium, is dead for the "third time." The woman was born on board a vessel on the Atlantic ocean; the ship afterward foundered in a storm. A nurse strapped the baby to a life preserver and threw her overboard. When picked up for dead, the child showed signs of life and was resuscitated. When twenty-one years old the woman had typhoid fever and was pronounced dead. On the day of the funeral she came to in a coffin and was again saved. This time she is dead for sure at the age of sixty-three.

THOUGHT THEIR MOTHER A GHOST

WATERBURY, Conn., Nov. 23.—After Thomas and Michael McDonald had wept over the supposed corpse of their mother lying on the floor of the public market this morning and then had made the preliminary funeral arrangements and had telephoned death notices to the newspapers, they went home to find their mother alive and sitting at the window. Thomas faintly, Michael thought he beheld a ghost. This was the end of a most remarkable case of mistaken identity.

Shortly before noon a woman entered the market to make some purchases and fell dead at a counter. Clerks in the place thought she was Mrs. McDonald. So did the policeman on the beat. Neighbors made the identification apparently positive. Then Thomas and Michael came hurrying from their work at a foundry, wept piteously over the body, kissed the dead face, and an undertaker bore away the body. Thomas said death was undoubtedly due to the fright occasioned by a fire in their home last night.

When the McDonalds went sorrowfully home their mother asked: "What makes you boys late to dinner?"

Then it was that big Tom fainted and Michael stood dazed with shaking knees.

The dead woman was later identified at Mrs. Catherine Stickles.

SETS CROSS DOG GUARD OVER WIFE

YORK, Pa., Nov. 23.—Because it was shown in court here today that his husband, Jacob W. Gerhart, was in the habit of placing a ferocious bulldog as a guard over his wife when he was not at home, an absolute divorce was promptly granted to Nina May Gerhart on grounds of cruelty.

Witnesses testified that Gerhart, who was jealous, would, upon leaving his home, compel his wife to enter a small building which had but one door, and would chain the bulldog at the entrance.

The Gerharts lived in Emmetsburg, Md., when Mrs. Gerhart was subjected to this alleged treatment by her husband.

The husband still is a resident of Emmetsburg, and the wife, since her separations, has been living in this city.

SOCIETY TO FACE REFORMERS' ATTACK

CHICAGO, November 23.—A reform propaganda is spreading in Northwestern University. University athletics and society will be the first points of attack of the reformers and faculty and students will unite in the suppression of what are accounted evils of university life. The initiative in the reform work is taken by the Interfraternity Council. At a meeting of the council last night plans for the regulation of "social excesses" of the school were discussed. The council is considering a plan by which the fraternities will enter into an agreement not to pledge students until a year after matriculation. The council will work with a social committee of the faculty. The Sororities of the University will send representatives to the meetings of the council.

BOY IS FINED FIFTY DOLLARS FOR LIGHTING A CIGARETTE

CHICAGO, November 23.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Lincoln, Neb., says Patrick Raymond, aged 16, was arrested yesterday while lighting a cigarette which he had just rolled for his own use in the presence of a city detective. He was fined $50 and costs. This is the lightest penalty prescribed by the law for "manufacturing" cigarettes.

HOW TO STUFF THE TURKEY

For many years the turkey has reigned supreme and new methods are continually being introduced in the manner of stuffing and serving it. Writing in The Housekeeper for November, Mary Foster Snyder gives the latest ideas for stuffing the fowl:

Giblet gravy, bread sauce, celery, oyster or mushroom sauce are all delicious accompaniments of roast or boiled turkey. Cranberry jelly is the jelly par excellence to serve with this fowl, but crabapple, red currant or a tart plum jelly, also combine delightfully with it. Celery, tomato, mushroom or peach catsup are equally desirable, and in pickles sweet spiced peaches reveal an affinity with turkey no other variety seems to possess. The various stuffings used may safely be called legion, for almost every housekeeper has her own favorite recipe, which is in some particular way just a little different from every other one. Celery and oyster stuffing is not as well known as some others, but is very delicious when properly made. To make it, chop fine one pint of celery which has simmered for 15 minutes in slightly salted water, and chop rather small one large cupful of oysters. Add a tablespoonful of onion juice, a teaspoonful of minced parsley, 1½ teaspoonfuls of salt, ¼ teaspoonful of pepper, the juice of a lemon, and ½ cupful of melted butter. This may be varied very pleasantly by using a large cupful of chopped mushrooms, instead of the oysters, and adding a teaspoonful of mixed poultry seasoning.

BIT OF "OLD GLORY" FOR NATIVE SONS

Unique Ceremony in Which Representatives of Notable Orders Are to Take Part.

BERKELEY, Nov. 23.—A bit of Old Glory, in the form of an old tattered flag which during the Civil War was used by forces in the field has been presented to the Berkeley Parlor of Native Sons and that body will be formally received tomorrow evening, in the hall on Shattuck avenue.

A Atherton is to present the old flag on behalf of Postmaster George Schmidt whose gift the flag is Judge C. B. McLaughlin of the Appellate Court and Post Grand President of the Native Sons will make the speech of acceptance for the Berkeley parlor.

Rev. O. G. May is to speak as a representative of the Grand Army of the Republic and Captain E. J. Martin for the Veterans of the Confederacy. John S. Partridge a member of the Stanford Parlor of Native Sons will also deliver a brief address. The Woman's Relief Corps and the Loyal Legion also will be represented.

Miss Virginia Goodsell is to lead the audience in singing a number of appropriate songs. The program has been arranged by a committee of Native Sons consisting of R. A. Berry, Dr. C. A. Meek and Clyde Abbott.

One of the pleasant features of the presentation ceremony will be the presence of a large number of Daughters of the Confederacy. Delegations from Wade Hampton, Albert Sydney Johnson, Jefferson Davis and Dixie chapters of the order will grace the occasion with their presence in an official capacity while an additional number of special guests will enjoy the pleasures of the evening.

When the Native Sons first decided to receive the flag from Postmaster Schmidt the desire to have the Daughters of the Confederacy take part in the program was expressed. The matter of arranging the details of the entertainment was left to Clyde Abbott, Dr. C. A. Meek and R. A. Berry. Mr. Abbott visited in person the various chapters of the Daughters of the Confederacy about the city and the invitation presented by him was graciously responded to. The same gentlemen who have charge of the ceremonies that will surround the flag presentation arranged the Native Sons concert given in August last. As that was the finest social event in the history of local fraternal affairs this promises to be the most successful patriotic ceremony yet attempted.

The battle flag that is to find its last home with the Native Sons of Berkeley was carried through the Civil War by Private Abramson of the Fifth Nebraska Regiment. On his death the flag was passed to Dr. Love an army surgeon and later a resident of Berkeley who was with Abramson when he died. Dr. Love has since passed away, and the flag has for a long time remained in the possession of T. W. Lockyer of this city. Mr. Lockyer presented the flag to Postmaster George Schmidt and he has decided that the proper and fit guardians for the historic treasure are the Native Sons of the Golden West.

CENTRAL CLUB HOLDS GOOD A SMOKER

Many Topics For the Improvement of Alameda Are Freely Discussed.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 23.—The Central Improvement Club met last night and instead of the club discussion a large number of guests was present and the evening was given up to a smoker and a general discussion on all topics of interest to the Alameda Improvers.

The meeting was presided over by W. H. Nov, the vice-president of the club. He outlined the work of the club since its inception and spoke of the work done and complimented the members on the snowing made. He called on the different speakers throughout the evening.

In his opening speech he outlined the following questions for discussion: 1. Opening our streets through the mesh. 2. A recreation park for your children. 3. Better service on steam and electric roads. 4. Property values in your block? 5. The lighting of our station clock.

Have we outgrown our charter? The first speaker of the evening was J. A. Remmel one of the oldest business men in the Bay station section. He told of the growth of the station and predicted that Railroad avenue would be the main business street of the town in a few years.

During the evening's program Mr. Remmel played a number of selections on the piano. Max Morris gave his views on the need of a playground in the city. He stated that he believed that within the course of a few years Alameda would be a city of the future. He had ground of some kind for the rising generations and that at the present time it was possible to procure a number of tracts of land and that as realty values are on the increase it would be advisable to purchase now.

Cass Banta, of the firm of Chas. Adams & Co. spoke on values in real estate. He told of the increased demand since the Improvement clubs had been organized and the increase in values.

B. F. Lamhorn gave his ideas of what a charter should be. He stated that a new charter should be original and that it was not necessary to pattern after other cities in framing the organic laws for Alameda.

A large number of the West Enders were present and addressed the meeting. Manager Hartog of the A. A. A. gave a short talk on the prospective work of the combined clubs. He had a number of advertising schemes that would be used.

The evening was closed by stereopticon views. Many Alameda scores were thrown on the screen and some of them will be used in the San Francisco lectures under the auspices of the California Promotion Committee.

BIG INSTITUTION FOR CATHOLICS. CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Permission for the erection by the Order of the Society of Jesus of a Jesuit University on the North Side, which will be perhaps the largest Roman Catholic institution of learning in the United States, is expected to follow action said already to have been taken by Archbishop Quigley in authorizing a third Jesuit parish in Chicago. The university probably will be at Devon and Evanston avenues.

Members of the Roman Catholic Church who have striven for years to have the Jesuit fathers establish such an institution on the North Side have permission for the new parish, will be followed in the very near future by the Archbishop's formal consent for the project. The practical selection of a site they think, indicates that fruition of the plans is not far distant and that the formal announcement of the Archbishop's consent will be not long delayed.

Actors Leave College and Plans For Pretentious Production Are Abandoned.

BERKELEY, Nov. 23.—There will be no big dramatic production of "Paola and Francesca" at the University this year. The collapse of the plans for the production of Stephen Phillips' great drama was completed today when it became known that four of the principal actors selected for the cast are to leave college at the end of this term. This circumstance will make it necessary to begin the work of preparing for the production all over and may operate to prevent altogether any attempts at staging the play.

George Baldwin was to have been the "Paola" of the cast. He will remain in college, nor will Florence

Parker who was to have been "Lucrezia." Tom Ambrose, the "Marko" of the play, and J. W. Fisk, who had the part of "Corrado."

A meeting of those interested in the matter was held yesterday and it was decided to give up attempts to rearrange interest in the affair until next term.

The production was originally scheduled for next Saturday afternoon in the Greek Theater. It was proposed to make it the most pretentious of all the University's dramatic spectacles.

Professor Von Neumayer selected and coached the cast. He declared that the time allowed for preparation was insufficient, and clashed with Professor Ames, head of the University dramatic association over the matter.

DAVID BELASCO MAKES DENIAL. NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—David Belasco yesterday denied with much warmth having any connection with an article on the "Art of Acting," published in a magazine over his name, but which was in reality a rehearsal of an essay written thirty years ago by George Henry Lewes.

The article in question was sold to the magazine, according to a statement by the publishers, by Lee Kugel, for $75. The signature was Mr. Belasco's. Mr. Belasco says Kugel applied to him for a position as an advance agent. When he was told there was no vacancy, he asked Belasco for an interview that he could sell adding that he was starving. Belasco says that though very tired he talked to Kugel for an hour. Kugel made a number of articles out of this interview, and later returned to the playwright-manager to ask him for his signature as a guarantee of their authenticity. Mr. Belasco signed them without reading them.

Improvement Club Men Discuss Plans.

BERKELEY, Nov. 23.—Among the interesting features of the regular meeting of the South Berkeley Improvement Club held last night at Lincoln Hall were the discussions of the street cleaning department of the city, the laying of crosswalks and the pressing need for the improvement in the equipment of the fire department.

Captain Higginson urged better attention to the matter of keeping the sidewalks clean and the streets in presentable condition. He thought that each citizen should be called upon to assist in this matter and that the superintendent of streets should give closer attention to the main streets of South Berkeley, than seems to be believed should be made to keep their vacant lots and other property in decent condition.

The whole club participated in the discussion and a comparison was drawn between Berkeley and Alameda. The president and Secretary Tisdale called attention to the fact that in this matter the proper comparison could not be drawn. It was said that Berkeley is growing so fast that she has become careless in the matter while Alameda is alleged to be on the decline and is fighting to retain her position. She is therefore forced to pay attention to such features as will make her more attractive to the eye. It was finally decided to call the matter to the attention of the trustees of the Fifth Ward urging him to impress the condition of affairs upon the superintendent of streets.

The recent burning of the Francis Shattuck block occasioned a debate upon proper fire protection. Mr. Carlson thought that at least three fire engines should be purchased and installed one at East Berkeley another in West Berkeley and a third in South Berkeley.

All the stomach dosing in the world cannot do any actual good in the world cannot do any actual good in the treatment of catarrhal troubles, unless the nose and throat are completely freed from catarrhal germs, and the poison that they produce.

Hymel is Nature's true cure for catarrh. It destroys all germs in the air passages and lungs, soothes and heals the irritated mucous membrane, and effectually drives from the system all traces of the poison. When you breathe is like that on the Mount of Olives, and the angels and the pine woods fill the air with purity and healing qualities that give health and strength to those suffering from diseases of the respiratory organs.

Breathed through the neat cough inhaler that comes with every outfit, the healing air of Hymel reaches every tissue of nose, throat, and lungs and immediate relief is given, and a permanent cure is soon made.

The complete Hymel outfit consisting of an inhaler, medicine drops and a bottle of Hymel costs only $1.00 extra.

If you cannot obtain Hymel of your dealer, it will be forwarded by mail, postage paid, on receipt of price. Write today for a free sample bottle and consultation blank that will entitle you to services of our medical department, without charge. The R. T. Booth Company, Hymel Building, B'ham. New York.

The annual memorial services of the Oakland lodge of Elks will be held on December 3 at the First Congregational Church. This service is to be held in memory of all members of the lodge who have died within the past year. A special program of appropriate numbers will be rendered.
